

London Free Press

Sept 2, 2007

Comments

Faith based Education funding Religion and School should remain separate. Public schooling is public funded. Religious training should be in privately funded Churches, Mosques, Synagogues and the like. Our taxes are high enough. If a particular religious group wants to build a private school that incorporates school and religious training, (i.e. Catholic) it should fund itself.
POSTED BY: Paul Sheppard