

The Record

Not voting Liberal

Premier Dalton McGuinty must think the people of Ontario are idiots.

Throughout the last few weeks, all I have heard out of his mouth is how public schools are the lifeblood of the province and that Progressive Conservative Leader John Tory's faith-based funding proposal will somehow endanger that.

Wasn't McGuinty himself Catholic-schooled? Didn't his wife teach in a Catholic school? He wants to campaign on his track record and, unfortunately, that in itself speaks volumes about why not to vote for Liberals on Oct 10.

According to McGuinty, all the problems are either the fault of the previous provincial government or the current federal government. McGuinty has failed the people of Ontario.
